

HUEBER BREUER

DIVISION OF FIRE PROTECTION SERVICES

FEASIBILITY STUDIES

The most important decisions you make on your project are made at the very beginning of the process. Choosing the right team of professionals is critical. With over $50 million in completed fire station projects, HUEBER-BREUER has the station development and construction experience to successfully bring your station to reality. Our feasibility studies are professional and detailed reports of the committee's efforts and findings as they pertain to your department and community. The following studies have been completed since 2009.
